Illegal Hunting Costs Six Men $4,582

Boston Industrialist 'Takes Rap' for Slaughter Near New Holland but Spends Night in Hoosegow

Pheasant hunting in this part of Ohio turned into a costly form of recreation Wednesday, when Irvin Patrick, Fayette County Game Protector, bagged six hunters near New Holland.

The six men paid fines and court costs totaling $4,582.01 in the Circleville magistrate's court Thursday morning to Magistrate Oscar Root.

One of the six, H. Warren Beard, 48, a Boston industrialist, spent the night in jail and was allowed a $2 credit for confinement.

The others, who all pleaded guilty, included Beard's brother, W. T. Beard of Huntington, W. Va., Arthur Sharp and George Dean of Columbus, and Hugh and Bob Gillan of Chesapeake. They spent the night trying to round up the money to pay off their fines and get their friend out of jail.

Clamp-down on Lewis Deferred by President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—(AP)—The White House indicated today that President Truman might wait a day or so longer before trying to head off a new coal strike.

Up until this morning, all signs had pointed to a presidential move today to keep the strike from starting again in two weeks. Then, Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that he did not expect any development during the day. He said he had "no forecast" on what might happen in the next few days.

There was still a possibility that Mr. Truman would give some hint of his intentions at a late afternoon news conference.

The president reportedly is considering two possible peace plans: (1) To ask Union Leader John L. Lewis and the soft coal operators to submit their dispute to a special fact-finding board empowered to make recommendations. If accepted, this plan would have the effect of delaying a strike while the board studies the dispute—possibly for 60 days.

(2) To invoke the Taft-Hartley law. This provides for a fact-finding board study and for a court injunction against a strike. Officials have indicated that Mr. Truman may propose the special fact-finding board first. If this is rejected, he then would invoke the Taft-Hartley emergency provisions next Monday.

The six-month old coal dispute was put in the president's hands yesterday. Cyrus S. Ching, federal mediation service chief, reported to the White House there seemed to be little use in trying further to get Lewis and the operators to agree on a compromise.

Lewis has asked for more wages and shorter hours for miners. He also wants a boost in the present 20-cents-a-ton royalty on coal production which goes to finance his union's welfare fund. The fund pays for miner's pension and insurance benefits.

Former Nazi To Play Christ

FRANKFURT, Germany Nov. 17—(AP)—Anton Preisinger, the man who has been chosen to play the role of Jesus Christ in next year's passion play at Oberammergau, confirmed today that he had been a Nazi.

He said he joined the party in 1932, before Hitler came to power, and added that a denazification court had adjudged him a follower—the mildest type of Nazi—in 1947.

Preisinger made the statement in reply to an article appearing in the U. S. high commissioner newspaper, Die Neue Zeitung, which said his former Nazi status had provoked heated discussion in the little village. The village casting committee had turned down one former Nazi for the role before electing Preisinger last week.

He described the Zeitung report as "a lot of nonsense," and added: "people should stop talking about these things."

He will not be the only former Nazi in the play. Most of the main actors had party links at one time or another.

A-Bomb Resistant House Is Claimed

CHICAGO, Nov. 17—(AP)—Construction of an atom bomb-resistant house is one of the treats awaiting 4,500 real estate men who began arriving today for a six-day business and recreation session.

The big meeting will be that of the National Association of Real Estate Boards which will hold its 42nd annual sessions Monday and Tuesday. But a number of affiliated groups are holding their conventions, starting today.

The discussions will range from evaluations of mortgage paper to a critical study session on city planning policies by 25 leaders in that field.

Men Caught Flatfooted

When the men were caught flatfooted, in possession of illegal game, H. Warren Beard, declared in good humor:

"You've got us where the hair is short. We're going to plead guilty to every charge you've got against us."

The men were found to have 15 hen pheasants, six quail and a Hungarian partridge in their possession. All birds were illegally taken.

What will be done with the pheasants illegally slaughtered? There has been no definite answer to that one from the court at Circleville where the hunters paid a total of $4,584 in fines after a Boston industrialist's night in jail. Apparently, the decision has not yet been made.

However, Judge Robert Sites of Washington C. H., who has handled a number of such cases said the "game warden may dispose of the game any way he wants to."

In court, Beard insisted he "take the rap" for the entire party. He was lodged in jail while his friends were scurrying to round up money to pay off the fine and court costs.

Magistrate Root turned down personal checks offered by the men. He said cash would have to be produced.

Meanwhile, Beard's friends got in touch with out-of-state banks. Two Circleville bankers were awakened in the middle of the night and asked by the banks to pay off the fines. The Circleville bankers refused, and Beard, president of the Mayflower Wayside Furniture Company, of West Newton, Mass., spent the night in the "cooler."

Several Aid Patrick

Aiding Patrick in the arrests were: E. W. Overholser, state game protector; Clarence Francis, Pickaway game protector; Frank Hard, district supervisor for the Ohio Wildlife Division and Charles Cooper, on leave from the Washington C. H. police force and serving as a deputy game protector.

Patrick said the men got the maximum fines because of the seriousness of their case. The Fayette County game protector described the hen pheasant as the "hen that lays the golden egg."

He said the hen pheasants are vitally necessary in the propaganda.

TWO AIR DISASTERS

Farm Bureau Has Turned Cold On Administration Policies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—(AP)—Relations between the Democratic administration and the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation—once warm and cooperative—have turned frigid. The political consequences may be considerable.

Differences over government farm policies have become so sharp that the federation has decided not to invite Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to speak at its annual convention in Chicago next month.

It long has been the custom of the federation and other national farm organizations to ask the secretary of agriculture to address their meetings, as a sort of titular head of American agriculture. Four other major organizations are continuing the custom.

While relations have been growing cooler for some time, it has been the controversial farm plan advanced by Secretary Brannan that has brought the federation to a virtual "no speaking" attitude toward the administration.

President Allan B. Kline of the federation has criticized the Brannan proposal as a political scheme to get votes of both farmers and consumers. He also has claimed that it would regiment farmers completely.

The Brannan plan is designed to assure farmers high returns and consumers cheaper food. Government cash payments to farmers would be the principal device for achieving such a dual goal.

The Farm Bureau and the Democratic administration started working closely together after Franklin D. Roosevelt became president in 1933. Both played big roles in getting precedent-breaking crop control laws through Congress.

All through the thirties they cooperated on farm legislation and programs. For years, federation officials were close advisers to such Brannan predecessors as Henry A. Wallace, Claude R. Wickard and Clinton P. Anderson.

Differences first started cropping up during the war in connection with farm price control and food subsidy policies. But they did not reach their present wide breach until Brannan put forth his plan last spring.

Monarch of Iran To See America

Shah's Country Is Rich in Oil

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—(AP)—A frank bid for increased American aid launched the youthful Shah of Iran on his month-long good-will tour of the United States today.

The dark-haired young Monarch addressed himself directly to President Truman last night at a state dinner which followed by a few hours his arrival from Tehran in Mr. Truman's plane, the Independence.

Iran, he said, needs American friendship, and hopes for "even closer cooperation and intensified help in the future."

The Shah—his imperial majesty Mohammed Reza Shah Pahlavi—made his remarks in response to words of greeting offered by the president.

His oil-rich nation, an uneasy neighbor of Soviet Russia, already is receiving some American assistance. Iran is one of 14 countries sharing in the new U. S. $1,314,010,000 arms-aid program, and its 115,000-man army has American advisers.

President Truman, in a dinner toast to the Shah, said that the U. S. and Iran honor their pledges, but that America has been dealing with "a great power that does not believe in keeping its contracts." He was obviously referring to Russia.

The arrival of the Shah signalled the start of a ceremonious official welcome.

After a warm greeting at the airport Mr. Truman and members of the Cabinet, he rode through crowd-lined streets to downtown Washington, where he was presented with a symbolic key to the capital city.

Today a visit to the naval academy at Annapolis was on his crowded program, followed by a dinner tonight arranged in his honor by Secretary of State Acheson.

Hunters Find Body In Northeastern Ohio

CANTON, Nov. 17—(AP)—Identity of a man whose body was found by four hunters near the Bolivar Dam Tuesday still had not been established today. The Stark County sheriff's office said the man was between 50 and 60, had the name "Crawley" stenciled on his shirt collar and carried a July 28 newspaper in his pocket. He apparently died a natural death, deputies said.

Arson Suspects Held

LONDON, Nov. 17—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff Robert Allison said today that two arson suspects had been arrested in connection with a fire that caused an estimated $3,000 damage to a barn near London, O., early Wednesday.

Man and Nurse Killed By Jealous Husband

BRIDGEWATER, Vt., Nov. 17—

(AP)—A 46-year-old nurse and her male patient—the son of a Washington, D. C., lawyer—were shot to death and man wounded last night in what police described as jealous-crazed attacks by the woman's husband.

Mrs. Antonia Salois of Bridgewater, and Randolph Ogilby, 38, of Washington, D. C., were shot to death after automobile was blocked by another machine on a lonely one-lane country road.

Shortly thereafter, Lloyd Bramhall, a camp owner, was wounded in the right leg a quarter of a mile from the scene of the double slaying.

Police seized the woman's husband, Antonio Salois, 46, of Bellows Falls, at gunpoint later. He was arraigned in Windsor County municipal court and held without bail for the grand jury on two counts of murder and assault with intent to kill.

Ogilby, was identified as the oldest son of Charles Fitz Randolph Ogilby, prominent Washington attorney, and a nephew of the late Rev. Remsen B. Ogilby, former president of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

Sheriff Melvin Moore said that Salois, who was estranged from his wife, apparently thought the slain couple and the wounded man were involved in a love triangle. Ogilby came to Vermont several months ago and had been a patient at Spring Lake Ranch at Cuttingsville. Moore described him as "a mental defective."

Moore said that Mrs. Salois, who had been Ogilby's nurse at the Cuttingsville Camp, moved to Bramhall's to care for her patient.

He said Salois apparently shot his wife and Ogilby under the mistaken impression they were keeping company and then moved on to the Bramhall home where he got Bramhall to accompany him under the pretext his car had broken down.

Mountain Lion On Loose Again

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 17—(AP)—Clark County's mountain lion (or whatever it is) got hungry again last night. Six more sheep were attacked, and one of them died.

The marauder operates about 10 miles northwest of Springfield and has killed or injured 20 sheep. Last night's foray was the sixth on Willard Barker's farm.

Farmers report the sheep-killing animal appears to be a mountain lion.

County Dog Warden Ralph Shelton and four Indians armed with bows and arrows have been hunting the animal at night, without success. The Indians, led by Chief Splitdance, took time off from a tribal dance engagement. They are from Oklahoma.

Buffalo Snow Melting Now

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 17—(AP)—The last of 19.1 inches of snow the most ever to hit Buffalo at once in November—was melting today.

Forecasts said there would be snow flurries in Western New York today and tomorrow. The eastern half of the state was due for light rain or snow today and possibly snow flurries in the mountains Friday.

The Weather Bureau said the snowfall here hit the 19.1 inches last midnight. That was for a 28-hour period. The previous November record was 14.8 inches on Nov. 16-17 in 1920.

Airline flights were diverted to Niagara Falls and Rochester or cancelled while plows worked at clearing Buffalo airport runways.

The roof of a hangar at the private Sky Harbor Airport collapsed under an estimated damage of $15,000 to six planes and $3,000 to the building.

Veep's Bride-To-Be Plans for Wedding

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17—(AP)—Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley hurried through last-minute preparations today for the wedding that will make her the second lady of the land.

Tomorrow at noon she will be married to Vice President Alben W. Barkley.

She busied herself today with a trip to the hairdresser, greeting relatives and the many other details that go with a wedding.

Barkley was expected to arrive by plane this afternoon. This evening the couple may get around to opening the many gifts jammed into Mrs. Hadley's small apartment.

Her daughter, Anne, a freshman at Sophie Newcomb College in New Orleans, was to arrive this afternoon. Mrs. Hadley's brother, William W. Rucker of West Palm Beach, Fla., also was expected.

Yesterday Mrs. Hadley showed part of her trousseau to women with whom she formerly worked at Washington University and the Wabash Railway.

Rent Control Ended In Clinton County

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—(AP)—Rent control was ended today in Clinton County, Ohio, and the city of Lancaster, Ohio.

Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods said he decontrolled on his own initiative.

Sea Is Searched Near Bermuda For Missing B-29

Superforts Collide In Air Over Pacific Coast—4 Survivors

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Nov. 17—(AP)—The biggest peacetime air rescue search in history was underway today for a lost B-29 bomber which ran out of fuel and crashed in the sea somewhere near Bermuda yesterday. 20 U. S. airmen were aboard.

Nearly 100 air force, navy and coast guard planes from bases all along the Atlantic seaboard crisscrossed above Bermuda's surrounding waters hoping for a sight of the stricken bomber or bobbing life rafts.

First search patrols yesterday afternoon were fruitless.

The last word from the superfortress, whose navigation instruments failed on a flight to England, was a radio message: going to ditch in five minutes.

Weak SOS Reported

After that message yesterday morning a U. S. coast guard vessel heard weak SOS signals—spurring hopes that the crewmen had taken to rubber life rafts equipped with automatic wireless distress signalers.

The plane, part of a B-29 group enroute to England from March Air Base, California, lost its way when its radio navigation equipment failed and it encountered bad weather. U. S. officials at Kindley Air Base here thought it probably went down 150 miles southwest or northeast of Bermuda.

The U. S. air force, navy and coast guard, and the Royal navy all joined in the search. Planes came from nine American bases. A B-29 group returning from England, and another enroute there from California, also drafted into the search. The missing bomber was from the second squadron of the 22nd Bombardment Group.

Raido Failure Reported

The bomber was due in Bermuda at 8:10 A. M. yesterday. At 7:46 A. M. the pilot radioed that he could not fix his position because his radio navigation equipment had failed and bad weather prevented his taking astronomical sights.

Kindley Air Base gave the plane a radio bearing. Two search planes went out to act as guides, but were unable to make contact.

At 8:40 A. M. the B-29 pilot radioed he had enough gas left for two hours flying at maximum speed. At 11:45 A. M. he sent his last message heard by Kindley Base, that he was preparing to ditch the plane in five minutes.

The plane carrying five officers and 15 enlisted men, was commanded by Lieut. Col. John Grabie, Jr., of March Air Base.

SUPERFORTS COLLIDE

STOCKTON, Calif., Nov. 17—(AP)—Two airforce superforts collided 26,000 feet above Stockton at midnight. One fell in flames. The tail of the other fell off and it crashed in the mud.

Four of the 22 men aboard were saved.

Seven were found dead in the wreckage.

Eleven are missing. Detailed checking eliminated one survivor reports by Lodi, Calif. police. The four survivors—all at the navy annex of the Stockton supply depot after treatment for minor injuries—are:

Lt. Warren F. Sharrack, whose home, ironically, is only 26 miles east of Stockton in the Sierra foothills.

Pvt. Keith R. Burns, 19, Boise, Ida., apparently the only survivor of the burning plane.

T-Sgt. B. Schmidt, Negley, Ohio. Sgt. Robert S. Kluge, 26, Spokane.

Three Bodies in Plane

The sheriff's office field party radioed three bodies had been taken from the plane that burned on the San Joaquin River in the delta nine miles west of here.

State Highway Patrolman Bill Allott said four bodies were taken from the plane that crashed six feet deep into the mud on the rindge tract two miles north and across the San Joaquin.

The wings of this plane were intact, but the tail assembly had collapsed.

A radio from the field party at this plane ordered all spectators cleared from the area because of high octane gasoline fumes.

Burglar Shot In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Nov. 17—(AP)—Police trapped two burglars in a confectionery today. One was shot to death, the other was captured.

Dead is Gene Finney, 25. John Pace, 24, was caught. Police Captain Louis Capretta said both were ex-convicts.

Capretta went to the rear door of Buddy's Confectionery and Patrolman John Jordan to the front. Jordan said Finney made a dash for the rear door, and the officer shot him in the shoulder after firing two warning shots.

The officers quoted Pace that he and Finney had burglarized the Sunridge Grill a short time before they were surprised in the confectionery. The men had $57 in change.

Both men had served sentences in Mansfield Reformatory, Capretta said, and Finney also had served a term in Ohio Penitentiary.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

A picture and writup of Jacob Pascal, uncle of Jacob Weiser, executive secretary of the Moose Lodge in Washington C. H., appeared in the October issue of Time magazine, under the title "World's Biggest."

The article stated that Jacob Pascal recently erected a $1,250,000 store in Montreal, Canada, and the business grosses around $3,000,000 per year.

Pascal, according to the article, started working for $3 per week after going to Canada from Romania, later took up farming, and then started in Montreal as a glazier. From his glazier's box grew his first store.

His sons assisted him in the business, and his maxim has been "Get to work early and never sue."

His four sons will conduct the business when Pascal retires.

Kids to Start Band Practice

The first practice of the newly formed all-county junior band will be Monday, November 28.

The music making is being made possible by the work of the Fayette County School Bandboosters.

About a month ago, the "Boosters" began planning the formation of a band for county elementary and junior high kids. The calling of this practice and one for December 12 marks the first steps in the actual formation of the band.

Under the direction of Rolland Chase of Washington C. H., the youngsters will hold their first practice in the Eagle Hall here, from 7:30 to 9 P. M.

Parents have been urged to transport and accompany their children to the practice session.

of San Francisco, said the plane that burned was from the 326th squadron. The other was from the 325th. Both were part of the 92nd bombardment group at Spokane, Wash. Air Force Base.

First definite word of the crash, in a fog, came from one of the survivors, Lt. Warren F. Sharrock, whose home is only 26 miles from Stockton. The lieutenant staggered into Edward Kenyon's King Island fishing resort bleeding from a head injury.

Survivor's Account

"The other plane ran smack into us," he gasped.

The Kenyons heard the crash. They were out looking for the flames in the fog when Sharrock arrived.

Highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies from four counties circled for nearly three hours across the fields and streams of the Delta county before they found the wreckage of both planes.

The still burning craft from the 326th squadron was sighted first. The bodies of its soldier crewmen were charring in the blaze. The last four of its serial numbers—6364—were the only marks of identification.

Searchers were led by a C-54 from the Fairfield-Suisun Air Force Base which is located near the delta country. It flew through the fog with a scant 200 feet visibility—just enough to scan the ground.

Capt. K. D. McFarland, information officer of the Spokane Air Force Base, said the other touring planes would not all complete the round-robin as planned. They encountered bad weather.

tion of pheasants in this section of Ohio.

Meanwhile, Patrick had his hands full with several other cases—ranging from trespassing to the menacing of property owners by hunters.

Men Apprehended

Patrick said three men, who reportedly menaced Sam Marting Tuesday when he ordered them off his farm, had been apprehended.

Patrick said it took a considerable amount of investigation and cooperation between game authorities in Fayette County, the state patrol and Cincinnati to locate the alleged offenders, however.

The men—all from Cincinnati—are to appear before Justice of Peace R. H. Sites in Washington

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 - (AP) - Wheat and corn managed a timid advance on the Board of Trade today. Although they did not gain much, they did better than other cereals. Oats and rye eased while soybeans were mixed.

Rye recovered partly after dipping into new low territory for the year, a reflection of another early price break at Winnipeg.

Financial Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 - (AP) - Automobile shares supplied the main motive power for another advance in the stock market today.

Gains ran from fractions to an extreme of two points, with improvements in most cases limited to a point or less.

Rails and chemicals were among other groups which made a good showing although buying was not so insistent as in the case of motors.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17—(AP)—The 30-year old king of ancient Persia, Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, Shah of Iran, arrived here yesterday for a 23-day look around. This is the first visit to this country of the young Shah, who has his own publicity man, speaks English, has a brother now at the University of Michigan and another who was graduated from Harvard.

The Shah will be well taken care of while he's here. He was flown over on President Truman's plane, the Independence. And Secretary of State Acheson flew back from Europe so he could be here to meet and help entertain the royal guest.

While he's here the Shah will be given 21 dinners, luncheons and receptions, starting tonight with a state dinner by President and Mrs. Truman.

In turn, the Shah will give one dinner and hold three receptions. He'll be flown around the country, visiting New York, a football game, Detroit, the Grand Canyon, California, and Sun Valley for a rest.

This country is very interested in keeping Iran and the Shah very friendly to the U. S. Iran is on Russia's southern border and would be a helpful ally if Russia got rough and tried to push south.

Iran is rich with oil which is important now and would be more important in wartime. The Persian economy is being supported largely from royalties and payrolls of the British controlled Anglo-American Oil Company. Russia has its eyes on Iran's oil.

The Shah was shot at recently by a would-be assassin. But, with American backing, he has a better chance of keeping his throne than he might otherwise have in his often-troubled country.

Keeping Iran fairly stable, with a ruler who has good will toward the United States, fits in with the U. S. foreign policy.

A couple of years ago when Russia tried to set up the puppet republic of Azerbaijan in Iran, the U. S. backed Iran, the United Nations rapped Russia's knuckles and the republic folded.

Americans have been busy in Iran for five years, advising the Shah's army. When Congress this fall voted $1,314,000,000 military assistance for western European and other non-Communist countries, $27,640,000 was earmarked for Iran, Korea and the Philippines.

Iran also has been supplied with substantial quantities of American war surplus equipment. And Iran may make requests for loans from the world bank and the American export-import bank.

The king, who likes tennis, skiing and flying his own plane, has about 20 palaces and a treasury of jewels and heirlooms. He's a rich young man.

But Iran itself, except for the royalties it gets from its great oil supplies, is not rich. It has a population of around 15,000,000 people.

But the Iranians have a plan, or are working on it, a seven-year plan costing $650,000,000, to raise the country's living standards. Royalties from the British controlled oil fields are expected to pay the bill.

The Iranians consider themselves Aryans, not Arabs, and although the Shah is a Moslem his country was not in the recent Arab war against the Jews of Palestine.

Fisherman Glad This One Got Away

PERTH—(AP)—Two professional fishermen here have a new angle to the story of the fish that got away. This time, so they say, it was a whale and it nearly took them with it.

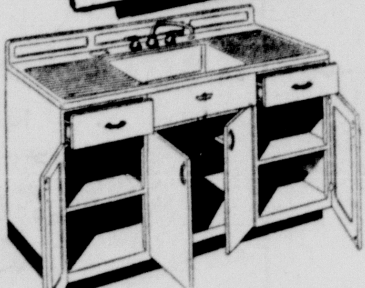

According to their story the two men, J. Hanson and C. Olsen were fishing in their 16 foot boat eight miles off the coast. Suddenly three large whales surfaced about 15 feet away. One, a 45 ft. humpback whale, dived under their boat. The fishing caught in its flippers. The whale surfaced again and made off to sea dragging the boat on a crazy course after it.

After about 50 yards, it broke free taking the fishing lines with it.

Former Washington C. H. Girl On Harveysburg Council

A former Washington C. H. girl today is getting ready to take her place at the council table in Harveysburg.

Miss Jane Ellen Fite ranked fourth among the candidates for the village council at the Nov. 8 election.

Only 25 years of age, Miss Fite is one of the youngest municipal legislators in the state. She will take on her legislative duties while still a high school student.

It was nearly seven years ago that Miss Fite was compelled to interrupt her schooling to go to work. She took a job with the Kurz-Kash Co. in Dayton and remained there until this year.

Back To High School With determination to complete her high school education and un-mindful of the difference in ages and maturity between herself and fellow students, she returned to Harveysburg High School to finish out her senior year and claim her coveted diploma.

She finds time, too, for participation in extra-curricular work at school as well as conduct a successful political campaign. She is the school's publicity director for one thing.

Miss Fite, who now lives with her mother, Mrs. Louise Fite, in Harveysburg, was born in Washington C. H. and lived most of the first seven years of her life on East Temple Street. She still has many childhood friends here who remember her although she has not had much time to renew acquaintances through visits here in the last few years.

Political Background

That Miss Fite should seek public office was not surprising to those here who knew her and her family background. Many of her antecedents were deep in politics and many held public office.

Her maternal grandfather, the late Frank Wilson, was a deputy clerk of courts in Warren County when he lived in Lebanon. After he moved to Harveysburg, he served several terms as the village mayor and justice. A great uncle of Miss Fite, J. Wilbur Huddle, is a former mayor of Lancaster.

Whether her election to the Harveysburg council is just a stepping stone along a path of a career in politics, Miss Fite did not say. Many of her friends think it is.

Austria has 13 universities or institutions of university rank with a total enrollment of 35,000.

Services Are Held For Gilbert Cooper

Funeral services for Gilbert Cooper, who died in the Carr Nursing Home here Monday, were held at the Walker Funeral Home in Greenfield, Wednesday at 10 A. M., and burial was made in the Greenfield Cemetery. Cooper was born in West Virginia, and had resided in Greenfield until ill health made it necessary to be cared for in the nursing home here.

Household Buyers and the Price Index

The average Fayette County housewife, or the husband if he does the buying and paying of bills, finds it difficult to reconcile her or his ideas of the prices she has to pay with the reports from time to time coming from government bureaus indicating price decreases.

At frequent intervals the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department of Labor announces a cost-of-living index, a figure in which the current cost of living is expressed in percentage of the average over a previous period. The present basis is the 1935-39 period.

Times beyond number the family shopper has noted a decrease in the index, and then has been disappointed to find no corresponding change in the cost of filling her market basket. It has been one of the baffling things about a period when shoppers are very conscious of prices.

Now the murder is out. The bureau has decided that the index no longer accurately reflects changes in living costs. Since the last important revision of the system, buying habits have been changed by the rise in popularity of frozen foods, special baby foods, frying chickens instead of roasting chickens, and so on. All in all, the bureau figures it has a three-year job ahead, revising its system of gauging the cost of living. For the present, the bureau can't go too far wrong simply by saying it is high.

Ruthless Monopoly

Last year, when the contract between the United Mine Workers and the soft coal mine operators was signed, John L. Lewis declared that it was the best labor contract ever negotiated. He was completely correct—no comparable labor force on earth is so well paid, or has so many other valuable benefits.

That is the identical contract that the operators wish to renew—if the union chiefs will give assurance that the miners will be allowed to work every day on which business is available.

What then has caused the present bitter and destructive controversy?

The answer is that the mine owners are not willing to give Mr. Lewis the powers of management, or let him decide when coal may or may not be produced regardless of public demand or the economics in the industry, or to let him further cement and extend his one-man monopoly power over an industry which is essential to the internal and external security and welfare of the United States.

A spokesman for the negotiating committee has said, "In his mad race for power, John L. Lewis is impoverishing our employees and is willing to destroy the coal industry." Those are hard words—but how else can Mr. Lewis' policies and actions be described? The country needs the coal. The high-paid jobs are waiting for the miners. But no industry can accept a ruthless labor monopoly that attempts to dictate every decision.

"The motorist is the obliterated man," says R. J. Schmunk, former president of the American Automobile Association. He finds it harder and harder to park at a reasonable figure, he is soaked by excessive taxes, and is worse involved in traffic every year. Well, the motorists may be the obliterated man, but he has done considerable obliteration of pedestrians and fellow-motorists himself.

Horse that Went to Psychiatrist

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK—(P)—Down the street came a horse—trotting sideways.

In the saddle rode Gilbert Warb, looking very uncomfortable. For he was trailed by a crowd of hooting small boys attracted by the strange sight of a horse that ambled sideways.

"Giddap, Pegasus!" said Gilbert to his doleful steed.

"Why'n't you get a motor car, mister?" jeered the children.

"Go away, little boys," Gilbert pleaded.

"Can't you see you're making my horse nervous?"

But they followed him until Pegasus side-stepped up and halted at a building that bore the sign: "Dr. Ambrose Withers, Animal Psychologist."

Warb dismounted and rang the bell. The door opened.

"What can I do for you?" said Dr. Withers. He was a big raw-boned man with a long face, hair like a mane and hugh buck teeth.

"Well, I feel a little silly about this," said Gilbert. He fished out a newspaper clipping and showed it to the doctor. The clipping said: "London veterinarian says neurotic animals need psychological treatment just like humans."

Dr. Withers nodded his head professionally.

"Very true," he said. "Just what are your horse's neurotic symptoms?"

"Well," said Gilbert. "I bought him for $200 at an auction as a saddle horse for my wife. But the darn fool won't run like any other horse—he will only run sideways."

"H-m-m, refusal to face life," murmured the doctor. "Come into my office."

They led Pegasus inside. After cajoling it with two carrots, a lump of sugar and an apple, Withers finally got the horse to lie down on a couch. He began to neigh in its ear, and the horse—looking around at Gilbert with frown—whinnied back.

"I'm sorry," said Dr. Withers. "But Pegasus feels shy with you in the room. Would you mind leaving?"

"Well, I'll be—" said Warb. But he left. Half an hour later the animal psychologist emerged.

"Is it anything serious?" asked Gilbert.

"A strange case indeed," mused the doctor. "To begin with, your horse doesn't want to be called Pegasus."

"What does he want to be called?"

"Gladys."

"Oh, well, if that's all—" said Dr. Withers. "Gladys is disturbed about her family. She loved her mother who was a retired thorn-

War Not Inevitable--Or Is It?

Aaron Nadell, of Brooklyn, writes an open letter to me, the gist of which is:

"Are you infallible, or could you be wrong? Now suppose that you are wrong, and that war is not inevitable—except insofar as you help make it so to the limit of your power by planting such an idea in people's heads—don't you take a pretty heavy responsibility on your conscience, Mr. Sokolsky?"

"As a matter of fact and record you are wrong; no war is ever inevitable until after it has started. Circumstances change, leaders die and are replaced by others, governments shift their policies, empires decay, revolutionists tame down, new states rise to alter balances of power. But there is one certain way to make any war inevitable, and that is to plant in people's minds the idea that it is."

And yet, how much greater must be everyone's responsibility if this country were to be attacked, suddenly, in a polar war, the enemy employing atomic bombs, biologic and chemical warfare, while we, depending upon our industrial capacity and ability, required 18 months to get ready? Let us say that war with Soviet Russia is not inevitable. Let us say rather than nothing is inevitable. Let us admit that what Mr. Nadell says is wholly true. Yet, it might be just the opposite.

Let us suppose that an episode occurs between Yugoslavia and Hungary. This may be localized or it may raise the question on the peril of Italy. That involves the intention of Soviet Russia. Let us suppose that the force sent against Yugoslavia is so large as to give the strategic index to an invasion of Italy. That country is an important element in American defensive strategy. The United States would go to the defense of Italy and therefore of Yugoslavia. So we are in a war.

Or, let us say that Soviet China marches into southern Korea below the 38th parallel. That means that General MacArthur's position in Japan is imperiled and the defenses of Alaska are endangered. The United States would have to make an immediate decision, involving not days or even hours but minutes, whether it would withdraw from or defend Japan. Unquestionably such a decision has already been made.

Or, suppose Soviet Russia puts a huge force into Eastern Germany and Soviet Germany breaks through to the Rhine. That immediately endangers France, Belgium, Holland and the Scandinavian countries. Under the north Atlantic Alliance, the United States is at that moment at war by treaty obligation.

It is true, as Mr. Nadell says, that no such events might happen. It is also true that any or all three of them could happen and could happen simultaneously. What is our responsibility?

Somewhat Navy and some Army experts believe that should war occur between the United States and Soviet Russia, it will be fought along classical lines, principally in Europe and on land. Our air force believes that such a conflict will introduce the novel logistics of a polar war, the enemy flying across the North Pole on a short line from Moscow to Detroit, let us say. So far as the flying and fuelling capacity of planes is concerned, this is technically possible for both sides. I am told by specialists.

Now, here is a disagreement concerning logistics which has shaken the Pentagon, skilled men differing on probabilities. Meanwhile, the citizen must ask: suppose the air force is right and we have no polar defenses, no Alaskan defenses, no defenses of such cities as Minneapolis and Detroit?

I, who have lived for many years in China and Japan, and who could claim warm and continued friendship with many of the men involved in Pearl Harbor, could never believe, up to the actual fact, that Japan would ever attack the United States. But it did happen at Pearl Harbor. Whatever the reason and the cause, it did happen.

As Mr. Nadell raises the question of moral responsibility, I shall never again be guilty of making the mistake of believing that a country like ours dares to be inadequately defensible even for a moment. It is possible to make a mistake once: it is a crime to make the same mistake a second time.

Liver Inflammation Frequent Disorder

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IT is becoming more and more apparent that hepatitis, or inflammation of the liver, is a frequent disorder. Often, due to a virus infection, this disease is commonly accompanied by jaundice or a greenish-yellow discoloration of the skin.

Sometimes, however, this sign is not present and, in these cases, the patient is likely to shrug off the attack as "a touch of flu." This is unfortunate because neglect to obtain proper treatment carries with it the danger that the condition may become chronic and that the liver will be permanently damaged.

Begin with Fever

Many suggestions, both as to recognition of this form of hepatitis and its treatment, can be gained from a recent study of a group of patients who showed no signs of jaundice. In practically all of these cases, the condition began with fever. Many patients had headache in the front part of the head or around the eyes. Loss of appetite and a feeling of fullness in the abdomen were present in all cases. There was soreness and a dull, aching sensation in the abdomen, and often, actual pain under the edge of the ribs on the right side.

Excessive gas formation and enlargement of the lymph glands in the neck and in other parts of the body are other symptoms which showed up in some patients. There also seemed to be some enlargement of the liver. Tests of the liver action showed that, in these cases, the function of the liver was impaired, that is, that the liver was not carrying out its action properly.

Bed Rest Required

In treating these patients, bed rest was required. Getting out of bed too early made the symptoms worse. In about one-third of the patients, the use of a diet rich in protein foods, such as meat and milk, with a reduction in the amount of fat, together with rest in bed, produced a complete cure within a period of from five to eight weeks.

In another third of the cases, the symptoms continued for from 20 weeks to five months, while in the remaining third the symptoms cleared up in about three weeks.

In those patients, in whom the condition lasted a long time, evidence of permanent liver damage was often present.

In cases of hepatitis, it is important that the diagnosis be made early so that treatment can be started at once with a high protein diet and bed rest, since these measures seem to shorten the course of the disease.

GENOA—(P)—Italian authorities are concerned over the increasing number of stowaways who want to seek their fortune in faroff lands.

Port officials reported recently that three Italian ships recently returned a total of 36 such clandestine Italian emigrants, mostly from South America. Most of the stowaways are unemployed youths who try to go to Latin America. If they are not discovered aboard ship they are caught at the ports and returned.

Recently one ambitious youth made his way to Barcelona, Spain, in the hopes of making it easier to get aboard a South American-bound boat. He was caught by Spanish police and returned to Italy.

Household Help In Berlin Hit By Red Politics

Prisoners Released
By Russians Come
Back to Wives

By TOM REEDY
BERLIN, Nov. 17—(P)—Russian politics in Germany is threatening the American community in Berlin with a severe dose of dishpan hands.

The U. S. labor office complains that it is running out of maids and housekeepers.

Some American families already have felt the pinch and the missus who has been accustomed to plenty of household help is back in the kitchen again.

The labor office, tongue-in-cheek, blames it on the Soviets. They explain it this way:

In the last few weeks the Russians have released almost 150,000 German prisoners of war, a big gesture to back up the new Communist government of eastern Germany. Thousands of these men are from Berlin and have been in Soviet prison camps since as far back as 1942.

Reunited with their wives for the first time in six or seven years, they want no more lonely nights. The wife must be at home where she belongs, they insist.

Home Life Once More

This means these women, who have kept the wolf from the door by serving the Allied communities as domestic servants, are picking up the threads of their own home life once more.

They no longer can be counted upon to work late in the day, over the important dinner hour, and certainly not to stay in the home where they work overnight. That just about destroys their usefulness as domestics, except for mornings and afternoons when the average American household doesn't need them anyway.

This is not to say that Berlin, with its 260,000 unemployed, lacks maids and housekeepers. There are quite a few available. But U. S. army rules require some knowledge of English before a German applicant can join its labor pool. There are few domestics who can speak English, even a smattering. The military post has more than 800 billets assigned to the American community, including both houses and apartment buildings. Maids, housekeepers and other domestic help assigned to these places as part of the rental cost number about 1,000.

Once upon a time the labor pool was so big a snap of the finger would bring the best servants in town. Now it is inadequate to meet the ordinary changes such as illness, death, resignations or dismissals.

Restoration of many German families by the returning soldiers is the largest single factor now, but there are other reasons, the labor office points out.

It no longer is necessary to be connected with an American family to eat well in Germany. Therefore many domestics prefer to work in German households without language barriers and with familiar customs and habits.

There also is a tendency for the Germans to become disassociated from occupation power people, once they get the chance to swim in purely German waters.

It hasn't added up to an epidemic of dishpan hands yet -- but it is threatening.

Back in Army To Keep Promise

March Survivor
Hunts 70 Families

NEW CUMBERLAND, Pa. Nov. 17—(P)—Sgt. Walter Konetsko is back in the army again to keep a promise made to 170 buddies during a "death march" across Germany.

Konetsko, a resident of Connellsville, Pa., said yesterday he was among a group of prisoners seized by the Germans on Dec. 16, 1944, following the Battle of the Bulge.

In the next three months, he and the others made a 700-mile "wall: 'til you drop" march across Germany.

around me and since I had been with the medics in the 28th Infantry Division," he said, "I was the last to talk to most of them."

The 32-year-old former truck driver said he promised 170 GI's he would visit their homes and talk to their families.

After his discharge, he returned home but those promises stuck in his mind.

"Finally last August," he said, "I decided that I would go back into the army and start keeping those promises. The wife was a little shocked when I told her of my plan but the army seemed the best way to get over the country."

In the two months he has been stationed at the New Cumberland army depot here, Konetsko said he has visited relatives of nearly 40 men who died overseas.

"Now," he said, "I'm trying to get a transfer to some western station."

The past presidents of the Washington C. H. Business and Professional Women's Club met for an informal get-together and motored to Greenfield for an enjoyable dinner at Anderson's Grill, with Miss Edith Wilson in charge of plans for the evening.

Following a pleasant hour of visiting around the dinner table the group held a discussion on revising the club constitution and by-laws. The past presidents were appointed as a committee for this revision at a recent board meeting with Miss Gretchen Darlington being appointed chairman of the committee.

Returning to this city to the home of Mrs. William Rogers, the group spent the remainder of the pleasant evening playing Canasta. Those attending with Miss Wilson, Miss Darlington and Mrs. Rogers were: Miss Frances White, Mrs. Howard Graham, Miss Ruth Sexton and the present president, Mrs. Lowell Miller.

Announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Edith Freshour to Mr. William Freshour, both of this city, on October 17, in Greenup, Kentucky, is being made.

Garden Club Meets With Mrs. Donald King

Twenty-three members of the Town and Country Garden Club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Donald King on Wednesday afternoon for the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. Charles Duff, the president, opened the meeting by reading the poem "Blow, Blow, Thou O Wind". The usual reports followed, and roll call was responded to with favorite annuals.

Mrs. Richard Rankin was welcomed as a new member by the club. Mrs. Duff appointed a committee to investigate landscaping of the new Memorial Hospital who are Mrs. Howard Sommers, Mrs. Gordon Cowdrey and Mrs. Malcolm Parrett.

The business meeting adjourned and Mrs. J. M. Allemang was program leader. She gave a review on the subject "A Thousand and One Things About Flowers." She spoke on the planting of bulbs, preparing them for winter and how to plant them for winter blooming.

Following her interesting talk a social hour was enjoyed and tempting refreshments were served by Mrs. King, assisted by Mrs. Karl McCoy.

Class Makes Plans For Christmas At Meeting

Members of the Golden Rule Class of the Bloomington Methodist Church assembled at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Guy Tucker for the regular monthly meeting.

Rev. Tucker conducted the devotional period, opening with the hymn, "Lead Me To Calvary," and short Scripture reading followed with prayer and closed with a song service.

Mrs. Wells Reinhold president, presided over the business session, during which the usual reports were heard and accepted. The members discussed the contributing of Christmas baskets for needy families in the community and also to send fruit and clothing to the Wesleyan Home in Cincinnati. Plan were also completed for the December meeting which will be combined with a Christmas party and gift exchange at the church and will include families of the members. This concluded the business meeting and a social hour followed.

Tempting refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Tucker during the social hour and they were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Looker.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sprenger, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Magly for the past several days are visiting in Circleville with their son, Mr. Herbert Sprenger and family before leaving for their home in Bakersfield, California.

Club Members Include Guests At Turkey Dinner

The Bloomington Wednesday Club included their families and a few additional guests at a turkey dinner on Wednesday evening at the spacious country home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin G. Morris.

Fall flowers were used throughout the home for the occasion and the arrangement of these flowers on the dining room table was especially admired.

The bounteous meal was served buffet fashion and sixty-two guests found their places informally at small tables for a most pleasant dinner hour. Games were enjoyed during the remainder of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Forest Hains assisted Mr. and Mrs. Morris in the gracious hospitality and guests included were: Mrs. D. H. Rowe, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. John Donohoe of Sedalia, Mr. and Mrs. John Dick of New Holland, Mrs. Zoe Garringer, Mr. and Mrs. Madison Swope and Mr. Frank Whiteside, all of Bloomington.

Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Woollard have returned from Columbus where attended a four day session of the Ohio State Dental Society held at the Neil House.

Ladies Aid Elects Officers At Meeting

The Ladies Aid of the First Christian Church met at the home of Mrs. Clara Lauderman with twenty-one members present.

The devotional period was opened with two hymns, a reading by Mrs. Lauderman and the twenty-third Psalm read by Mrs. Harley Stackhouse, closing with the Lord's Prayer.

The business session followed with Mrs. Otis Stookey, president in charge. The usual reports were read and approved and it was decided to contribute liberally to the church repair project and to purchase dishes and silverware for the church. Christmas cards are to be sent to shut-ins and service men of the church. Election of officers resulted in the following being chosen: president, Mrs. Stookey; vice president, Mrs. Alfred Weatherly; secretary, Mrs. Ben F. Norris; treasurer, Mrs. Hubert Follis. During the social hour Mrs. Lauderman was assisted by Mrs. Gaines Crabtree, Mrs. William Sowders, Mrs. Harley Stackhouse, Mrs. Frank Morris and

Mrs. Roy Greer in the serving of dainty refreshments.

Shower Honors Bride And Groom

The Buena Vista Township Hall was the scene of a miscellaneous shower honoring a recently married couple, Mr. and Mrs. James Elmer Nilan of Greenfield.

The hall was beautifully decorated throughout in a pastel pink and white color scheme and fall chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Robert Pavey favored the guests with several selections on the piano. And Mrs. John Corzatt sang two solos accompanied by Mrs. Pavey at the piano.

The guests were requested to write their favorite recipe for the bride and Mrs. Kenneth Arthur and Miss Mary Prudence Nilan conducted a very clever "Floral Wedding" contest which was won by Mrs. Ralph Theobald and Mrs. Everett Page, who presented their gifts to the bride.

The honored couple was later presented with their many beautiful and useful gifts which were placed on a large decorated table over which a sprinkling can was suspended, graciously expressed their thanks to the many guests.

The guests were then seated around small tables which were decorated with small bouquets of pink and white button mums. At each table a sealed envelope was placed which contained a puzzle when properly arranged represented a part of the bride's home.

Refreshments of ice cream molds with pink wedding bells, cake, mints and coffee were served by the gracious hostesses Mrs.

The hostesses served delicious refreshments to the following members: Mrs. Goodson, Mrs. Yarger, Mrs. George Plymire, Mrs. Edna Bandy, Mrs. Frisby, Mrs. Paul Ryan, Mrs. Combs, Mrs. Pete Corwin, Mrs. Mae Huffman and Mrs. Ulrich Roberts, a guest. The December meeting will be with Mrs. Charles Fowler.

Good Cheer Workers

Mrs. John Mathew welcomed members of the Good Cheer Workers Sunday School Class of the Methodist Church to her home on Tuesday evening. Mrs. A. A. Fisher had devotions which were in the Thanksgiving theme, after which members answered roll call by giving a Thanksgiving quotation. Miss Alma Sheridan, president, was in charge of the business meeting when Mrs. John Huffman acted as secretary. Mrs. Mathew served a salad course from a table decorated in the Thanksgiving theme to two guests, Mrs. Edith Goodson of Wilmington and Mrs. Florence Mercer, and 15 members.

Porter on Pier Still Has Hope Of Sailing Seas

Only Time on Ship
He Had To Get Off
From Sea-Sickness

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 —(AP)—Charles A. Brown's father went to sea, so did his grandfather. But Charley never made it.

He died once, 51 years ago. He shipped as a cabin boy aboard a pig iron freighter bound from Perth Amboy, N. J. to Providence. R. I. Charley got as far as Long Island but had to leave the ship because of severe sea-sickness.

So, for the last 50 years, Charley has worked as a porter on the Gunard White Star Liners' piers at 14th Street, Manhattan. He has helped the wealthy and famous board ships from faraway places. But Brown, himself, hasn't sailed any farther than State Island.

Now, 66, graying and slightly stooped, he still hopes to cross the ocean.

"In a few years I'll retire," he says, "and go to England. I'll go on the Queen Elizabeth and maybe I won't get sick."

The glamour traffic in ocean travel has moved up town to the docks where the Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth berth. But Brown has his own stockpile of memories from the days when the most elegant sea travelers sailed from his piers.

He remembers the long-gowned ladies and top-hatted men who drove to the docks in hansom cabs and the brilliant champagne dinners at the midnight of sailing.

He recalls that William Jennings Bryan tipped with a silver dollar and Mrs. Brown now wears the coin as a pin to prove it. He remembers that J. P. Morgan's secretary was always good for a $5 tip and that the financier smoked long black cigars and used the lower gangway to slip aboard unnoticed.

Brown carried bags for the Vanderbilts, Astors, Goulds and "the titled folks." He once pushed Franklin D. Roosevelt aboard in his wheel chair when the latter was governor of New York. He remembers that Roosevelt and Winston Churchill, whose bags he handled many times, were "always very jovial, always smiling."

There was once a feather-weight champion named George Dixon who sailed for a fight in Ireland in first class style. Going, he tipped Brown $5. In Ireland he lost the fight and came back broke.

"But he still tipped me a quarter when he got back," Brown says. "I'll never forget it."

Brown's favorite ship was the Lusitania, which was torpedoed in 1915.

"The captain—Captain Dow, I think it was—was always wonderful to me," Brown says. "He'd call me Jack Johnson and even though he was all done up in gold braid he liked to joke with me and we'd square off for a few pre-tended punches."

Brown remembers when the survivors of the Titanic came in aboard the Carpathia in 1912. "The dock," he says, "was full of ambulances that night. And relatives everywhere asking for their people. It was pitiful."

At the end of each working day Brown boards a train for Sparkill, N. Y., where he and his wife raise chickens.

"But some day soon," he says, "I won't get on that train. My wife will meet me here and we'll sail off ourselves."

An average freight car will carry 52.26 tons.

New Drug Hits Stomach Ulcers

Treatment Replaces
Surgeon's Knife

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
CINCINNATI, Nov. 17 —(AP)—A new synthetic, nerve-control drug, Banthine, is healing bad peptic ulcers. The results were exhibited for the first time to the Southern Medical Association at its annual meeting.

The way of controlling stomach action is something new in the long search for ulcer remedies. The drug substitutes for the action of a surgeon's knife on the stomach's control nerves.

In 20 cases all apparently healed. Some ulcers were perforating, that is eating holes, but X-rays show that these too healed.

Eighteen patients were suffering severe ulcer pains. In all cases pain stopped a few minutes after the drug was given. It is taken by mouth every few hours.

The exhibit is from Duke University and the work was supported by a grant from the U. S. Public Health Service. The work was shown by doctors Keith S. Grimson, professor of surgery, and Frank H. Longino and C. Keith Lyons, U. S. public health service fellows.

Banthine is one of a score of new drugs tried at Duke for effects in blocking the nerves that control high blood pressure and stomach action. But it is not a blood pressure remedy. It is made by G. D. Searle and Co., Chicago.

The cause of ulcers is not known. Doctors agree that contributing conditions are excess stomach acid, rapid stomach movements and probably overactive nerves.

Banthine slows down stomach movements. It does this by a block on the same nerves which are severed in stomach ulcer surgery. After the drug, food empties itself more slowly.

In most Duke cases acid also dropped. But in a few, the acid rose after Banthine. Yet these ulcers got well too.

Justices use a private basement entrance to the Supreme Court Building in Washington.

Notorious Thief Back in Prison

Barry Is Rearrested
As Soon As Released

ATTICA, N. Y., Nov. 17 —(AP)—Arthur Barry, spectacularly successful society jewel thief and a ringleader of the 1929 Auburn prison riot, was released from state prison yesterday and immediately re-arrested.

As soon as the 59-year-old white haired convict stepped outside Attica State Prison on parole, he was picked up by three Nassau County detectives.

The detectives executed six old bench warrants from the case that was Barry's downfall—the $100,000 jewel burglary on the home of financier Jesse L. Livermore 22 years ago.

Barry, a former playmate of millionaires who became a ringleader in a riot at Auburn State Prison on July 28, 1929, hopes that time may have weakened the case against him.

Barry won't say much about the past—about the years when police estimated he picked up between $4,000,000 and $10,000,000 worth of loot. Only $50,000 worth ever was recovered.

He summed up his feelings marred while talking briefly with newsmen outside the prison.

"There's nothing much I can say," he remarked. "I'd just like to forget the whole thing."

When Barry left the prison, he was led to the Nassau Police car and started on the trip back.

Prison authorities said Barry's record since coming to Attica from Auburn in 1937 was un-brought to the children of Central

Thrills To End With Closing Of Lion Farm

Venture Started
With 57 Big Cats
Gained World Fame

By JACK QUIGG
EL MONTE, Calif., Nov. 17—(AP)—"It takes youth and agility to handle lions..." Charles Gay spoke the words quietly, sadly, as he eyed the sign that proclaimed his life's work ended.

The sign outside the internationally famed Gay's Lion Farm read:

"Closed, until further notice." But there will be no further notice. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gay have announced that their showplace, shuttered "for the duration" in 1942, will be put up for sale instead of reopened.

The couple is no longer young. And Gay wears livid scars, souvenirs left by tearing claws on the four occasions he was mauled, to remind him that agility is paramount in handling lions.

They are leaving their farm, but the Gays can look back on a quarter century of thrills and dangers, the substance of memories to last them their lifetimes.

The pair began their extraordinary venture July 1, 1925, when they opened their jungle compound with 57 lions. When they closed the door seven years ago, 217 big cats stalked the concrete pens.

Thousands of Visitors

In that period hundreds of thousands of visitors toured the 330 by 680 foot wooded farm. Lions clubs held countless banquets, feasting on broiled and fried lion meat. Several rare white cubs were born. Gay and his wife became two of the most skillful lion trainers in the world.

Two trainers lost their lives on occasions when the Gays were away. Once, while putting 18 lions through an act, a trainer stumbled backward, fell, was pounced upon and killed. Again five lions escaped and dispatched a trained trying to restrain them.

The best known act, the one that held spectators enthralled, was that in which Mrs. Gay lay on a blanket while Numa, their biggest beast, reclined across her body. Gay kept the cat's attention focused on his whip.

Gay was training animals in a London circus when he met his wife to be, a newspaper woman. Soon after their marriage he informed her that she had been signed to do an act with the circus leopards.

"But can I do it?" she asked, alarmed.

"Certainly. I wouldn't have signed if I hadn't known you could do the job."

Mrs. Gay became a star with the leopard act.

Lion for Breakfast

At a Lion's Club breakfast in 1926, Numa pulled a stunt that witnesses have never forgotten. The long banquet table was set up inside the arena. Gay led Numa to the table. The lion jumped atop it and walked its length between the guests, who hustled their plates out of his way. As Numa near the end, the table began to sag and rock under his weight. He finished the walk with the table supported by the anxious grasps of the diners. It did not collapse. No one was hurt.

The beasts, too, had troubles. One lion choked to death on a chunk of meat. Another died of appendicitis. A third was killed in a fight.

In the summers 3,000 people a week crowded the farm. The guest book sports the signatures of Sir Harry Lauder, Albert Einstein, Count Von Luckner, Marie Dressler, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and many movie actors.

The farm was primarily a breeding place. Its vigorous young cubs were shipped to the zoos and circuses of the world.

Woman Is Crushed In Store Elevator

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17—(AP)—Police sought additional details today in the elevator accident which claimed the life of a 65-year-old Middletown, O., woman in a downtown department store.

Mrs. Lydia S. Humphreys was crushed to death when caught between the third floor landing and the floor of an elevator in the H. and S. Pogue Company.

Police said details of the accident were not clear immediately because they could not obtain a coherent report from Miss Edith Stewart, the 23-year-old elevator operator. She became hysterical and was placed under the care of a physician.

Malaria in U. S. Takes Big Toll

Disease Worldwide
And Cost Is Heavy

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK, Nov. 17—(AP)—About 4,000,000 Americans suffer from malaria each year, Dr. Leon J. Warshaw writes in a new book, Malaria, The Biography of a Killer (Rinehart & Co.).

The figure is an estimate, he says. Most of the cases occur in the southeast and Gulf states and some in parts of the Ohio River Basin and California. Even today malaria occurs in 36 of the 48 states.

"Measured in terms of dollars and cents, the direct cost of malaria runs about $50,000,000 annually" in this country. "When all factors are considered, the total economic loss due to malaria would be about $500,000,000."

Worldwide, malaria is the most prevalent of all diseases and is the biggest killer.

"It is generally agreed that throughout the world there are at least 300,000,000 persons who suffer from malaria each year and that, of these, not less than 3,000,000 die."

India alone has more than 1,000,000 deaths annually from this disease, caused by a parasite spread by certain mosquitoes.

No disease has had a more significant effect on world history, Dr. Warshaw adds.

Alexander the Great died of malaria even as he was preparing new campaigns and his empire collapsed. Alaric, king of the Goths, conquered Rome but malaria killed him. Malaria mosquitoes struck down popes of the Catholic church.

Retards Tropics

The disease has kept many tropical areas of the world undeveloped, or delayed their development. The French attempt to build the Panama Canal, failed partly because of the disastrous inroads of malaria and yellow fever.

It is generally agreed among medical historians that Europeans brought malaria to America, Dr. Warshaw says. Epidemics of malaria even hit New England colonists.

He adds, "there is more than a hint that the high mortality from malaria among the British troops may have been partially responsible for the surrender at Yorktown" in the Revolutionary War.

A doctor wrote that "in 1865, every man, woman and child in southern Illinois, at least within my range, shook with ague every day."

"Daily life in the west was often arranged to allow for attacks of fever" or shakes, Dr. Warshaw says. The Civil War brought a new upsurge in epidemics. The Confederacy was particularly hard hit due to the difficulty in getting quinine.

Complacency Hit

Dr. Warshaw declares there is no room for complacency about malaria in the United States today.

"It is impossible to predict when a change in climatic conditions, even though temporary, may cause an explosive outbreak." And sometimes "the cause of an epidemic in a previously non-malarious area is the importation of the parasite by a newcomer from a malarious zone."

Also, he says, a new species of anopheles mosquito might be brought in by accident and spread the disease.

"One of the greatest achievements of World War II was the mounting of a powerful and coordinated offensive against malaria." This was done with old and new drugs, with DDT, drainage and other measures.

With the weapons now at hand, malaria could be largely controlled throughout the world, Dr. Warshaw declares. It is more an economic, political and engineering problem than a medical one.

He expresses hope that "we have not too long to wait for that day when the nations of the world will recognize their joint responsibility to all mankind and will join with unselfish energy in the fight against malaria."

Pumice and pumicite are mined in 11 states and Alaska.

Colorful Band Show in Store At Football Game on Friday

One of the most colorful half-time entertainments of the football season here, today was in the making for next Friday night, when Dayton Stivers' Tigers come here to meet the WHS Lions on the gridiron in the last game of the season.

Indications now are that it will be second only to the show put on at the annual Homecoming—and it might even surpass that one in view of the rain that drenched it.

The crack WHS marching band that is carrying on the prestige gained by the performances last year when it was invited to perform at Cleveland and New York is planning something new—but just what, Bandmaster William B. Cliff is not saying yet.

Rehearsal with gusto

The band went through its usual Wednesday night rehearsal at Gardner Park under the lights, but with unusual gusto and enthusiasm. It drilled on the formations, maneuvers and music that is to be paraded before the Friday night crowd.

But that's not all—in fact, it's only half.

For the first time in years, the Stivers High School band is preparing to accompany its football team on an out-of-town trip here Friday night.

Reports from Dayton

According to word from Dayton, a new organization of boosters, made up of parents, East End residents and alumni is sponsoring the trip for the band. The group, which calls itself the "Varsity S Quarterbacks," was responsible for the Dads Night "promotion" for the Fairview game in which fathers of the football players sat on the bench. The Quarterbacks meet every Monday night at the Wayne Avenue Market House.

They are advocating a Stivers "Appreciation Night" at Washington C. H., and expect several hundred rooters to follow the team in an auto caravan. "We are trying to revive the old Stivers spirit," said M. W. McCurtis, who, with Charles Dawson, was prime mover in setting up the organization. "We plan to continue our booster activities during the coming basketball season."

Ohio U. To Play Illinois Next Year

ATHENS, Nov. 17 —(P)—Ohio University will play the University of Illinois in football at team in 1950. In three meetings, Champaign, Ill., Sept. 30, 1950.

Don C. Peden, Ohio U. athletic director, announced the resumption of athletic relations with Illinois, where he himself once was a gridiron star.

Ohio won two games, 6 to 0, and lost one, 6 to 20.

Ohio likely will play a 10-game schedule next year, compared with the normal eight or nine contests, said head coach Carrol C. Widdoes.

Karras and Ortmann Big Ten Standouts

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 —(P)—Illinois' sophomore sensation, Johnny Karras, faces a challenge from Michigan's Chuck Ortmann in making a sweep of yard gaining titles as the Big 10 football race ends Saturday.

Karras, upheld by many coaches and scouts as the most terrific sophomore ball-carrier seen in these parts in years, already has notched a modern conference ground gaining record. But his total offense claim—yards by running and passing—is periled by Ortmann.

The Michigan star, booked for a busy day against Ohio State in the championship battle Saturday, has gained 257 yards rushing and 414 passing for a total attack mark of 671 yards in five games.

Karras has compiled a total of 685 yards, a record of 671 by rushing.

Although the former Argo, Ill., prep star is hailed as the Big 10 ball-carrying champion, Ortmann seems destined to surpass him for the total offense crown with a high-octane blend of passing and running against Ohio State.

Bucks All Steamed Up For Game at Michigan

COLUMBUS, Nov. 17 —(P)—Ohio State's steamed-up gridgers planned one last stiff workout today before they take off Friday morning in the direction of Ann Arbor for their Big Ten title game Saturday with Michigan.

Today's drill won't be the last before the crucial contest, though. The Bucks will travel northward only as far as Toledo Friday, have an afternoon workout in Toledo that afternoon, and move into Ann Arbor Saturday morning.

Team morale was nearing a peak yesterday. Ohio veterans were thirsting for a victory over the Wolverines after four long arid years. Sophomores, too, caught the fever.

And all evidence points to sophomores playing a more prominent role in the Michigan game than in any previous Buck game this fall.

Vic Janowicz and Ray Hamilton, star sophomore halfbacks, are definite starters. And in anticipation of encountering the toughest defense met this year, the Ohio coaching staff has added new plays stressing the speed and versatility of both.

In addition to the two backs end Ralph Armstrong and tackle-guard Julius Wittman, also sophomores, are expected to see important service Saturday.

Jack Jennings, giant veteran tackle and a mainstay of the defensive line, returned yesterday for the second straight day of duty at his regular post. That indicates improvement in the back injury he suffered in the Illinois game. But, as a precautionary measure, Wittman is ready to spell Jennings if necessary Saturday.

Veteran halfback Jimmy Clark is expected to watch the game from the sidelines Saturday because of a knee injury.

Dick Schnittker, basketball great turned gridder, is due to claim the starting spot at offensive left end.

Jack Lininger, one of the top centers in the nation according to the weekly Associated Press poll released yesterday, will be one of the few Bucks to come near a 60-minute mark Saturday. In addition to being a top-flight center he is a first-rate line-backer.

Coach Wesley Fesler said only one starting spot remains uncertain. Jim Thomas is a cinch to start at right guard on defense. But on the left side of the line, it will be a choice between Wittman, George Matley and Bill Miller.

A smiling Fesler, obviously pleased with his charges' progress physically and mentally, observed at the end of yesterday's workout: "I think we're ready for them."

Political Pot Stirred By James Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17 —(P)—James Roosevelt's bid for the California governorship gave the West Coast State top ranking with New York and Pennsylvania today in major party speculation over the 1950 and 1952 elections.

These are the three most populous states, on the basis of census bureau estimates. They cast a total of 107 of the nation's 531 electoral votes in a presidential election. Each of them will elect a governor and U. S. senator next year.

The announcement by the 41-year-old Roosevelt (he'll be 42 next month) last night in Los Angeles that he will run for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination had long been expected by politicians here. He said he would also reluctantly run for the Republican nomination, under the California law which permits such dual candidacies.

The first reaction among Democratic officials was that President Truman and the Democratic National Committee will keep hands off the primary race if the late president's eldest son has opposition.

Pumice and pumicite are used as abrasives and in building materials, paint filler, insecticides and absorbents.

Rose Bowl Selection To Be Made Monday

CHICAGO, Nov. 17 —(P)—The Western Conference representative in the 1950 Rose Bowl will be announced Monday by the big ten office.

Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson said faculty committeemen will begin voting on their first, second and third Bowl selections after Saturday's games and the poll will be assembled Sunday.

Wilson said that preparations for the game in Pasadena, Calif., included the scouting of U. C. L. A., Stanford and California last Saturday. These teams also will be scouted this week. Stanford meets California and U. C. L. A. faces southern California.

Northwestern Coach Bob Voigts has predicted that Minnesota will defeat Wisconsin Saturday. He rates the Michigan-Ohio State game a toss up. Voigts believes Minnesota, on the day Northwestern played the Gophers, was the toughest of the four.

Pipeline Work Is To Be Resumed

HERE IS PART OF 168 carloads of 26 inch gas pipe now being assembled in the yards at Wilmington to be used in extending the Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation's "Ohio loop" from near Milledgeville to Red Lion in Warren County. In addition to the 168 carloads being shipped to Wilmington, 132 carloads will go to Corwin, near Waynesville.

Construction Had Been Halted Near Milledgeville--No Pipe

Plans for resuming work on the third huge pipeline across Fayette County are under way and indications are that about December 1 the construction crew will start where the loop ends near Milledgeville, and build it to station 16, near Red Lion, in Warren County.

Each day additional steel pipe for the project is arriving in Wilmington, and within a short time the work of unloading an additional 132 carloads will get under way at Corwin, near Waynesville.

Moving the pipe to the location will be launched within a short time after the right-of-way crew completes its work of cutting fences and making other preparations for the trench diggers, welding crews and others.

The job of building the 33 miles additional will be completed in December. If the weather permits and the full quota of pipe is obtainable.

Some of the pipe for the 26-inch line is to be shipped into Waynesville or Corwin as late as December 15, it is understood.

Already most of the 168 carloads of pipe, from the A. D. Smith mills in Milwaukee, Wis. has reached Wilmington and is being piled in a lot until it can be moved.

Cranes are used to handle the pipe from cars to storage places and they will be used in loading the big trucks which will haul it to the place where it is to be laid.

When work is resumed, only a small number of the workmen will be located in Washington C. H., it is understood.

Officers Installed By Masonic Lodge

The Fayette Chapter of Masons here today was moving into its usual winter program of activities with a new regime at the helm following the annual election of officers.

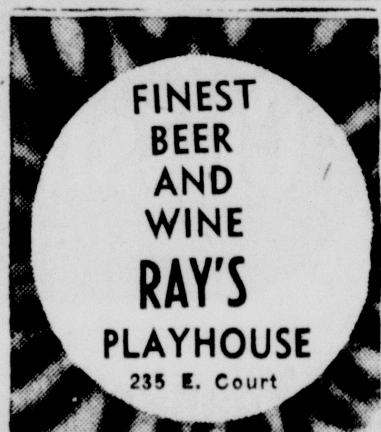

Setting something of a precedent this year, the installation was held immediately after the results of the voting were ascertained.

Now occupying the different stations in the lodge are L. M. Blessing as the worshipful master; Jack Witherspoon, the senior warden; Earl Dunaway, junior warden; M. K. Evans, treasurer; Robert Heath, secretary; C. W. Johnson, senior deacon; Isaac Schwartz, junior deacon; Theodore Irvin, chaplain; Walter E. Elliott, tiler and Don Gibson and Richard Rankin, the stewards.

William W. Humphries was elected as the new member of the three-member board of trustees.

Austria has 4,884 elementary schools with a total enrollment of about 800,000.

Rural Fire Protection Assured Southwestern Part of County

Even though three of the six townships in Fayette County turned the plan down, leaders are hopeful of putting a part of a rural fire protection program in effect.

This was revealed today by Walter Sollars, president of the Fayette County rural fire protection committee.

Sollars said he was cheered by the result of the vote in the general election on levies to support the rural fire protection plan.

Three of the six townships in Fayette County voting on the fire levies gave the proposal the needed 65 per cent favorable vote. They were Concord, Green and Perry townships.

Those in which voters failed to give the proposal the required 65 per cent were Jasper, Madison and Wayne townships.

Support in Highland

In Highland County, both Penn and Fairfield townships gave levy proposals the needed votes.

Sollars said it would be possible to put a program of rural fire protection into effect in the southwestern part of Fayette County since all the townships voting for levies are located in this sector.

It will be up to the township trustees in the townships concerned to determine how much of their townships can be taken care of out of Washington C. H.

Later a plan for fire protection would be mapped and presented to the state fire marshalls office for approval, change or disapproval.

The city of Washington C. H. already provides fire protection to Union township. Jeffersonville provides fire protection to Jefferson township. Marion township has adequate funds to pay for its share of fire protection plan. Greenfield will cooperate in the plan.

Bloomington Outlook

Meanwhile, some relief may come from Bloomington, where there has been talk about rural fire protection. No promises have been made, however, and no formal votes taken by the village council supporting a plan of rural fire protection.

The fire protection committee is going ahead with its plans of insuring fire protection for at least a part of Fayette County. The committee feels that it has met with sufficient success to get the program off to a good start.

Further discussion about the rural fire plan will probably take place at the next meeting of the Fayette County Clerks and Trustees association November 30.

Gas Rate Hike Here Possible If Wholesale Price Increased

Whether natural gas rates in Washington C. H. and Fayette County will go up in the near future today remained highly conjectural.

And, the answer probably will not be known until after some decision is reached by the Federal Power Commission on the contention of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. that its wholesale rates in Ohio are too low.

The Dayton Power & Light Co., which supplies Washington C. H. and the surrounding area with gas for heating and cooking and some industrial use, buys its gas wholesale from the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. The D. P. & L. is biggest purchaser among the 24 customers listed by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co.

Hearing in Progress
The hearing on the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. request for an increase in wholesale rates is now in progress in Washington D. C. On the outcome of that hearing probably will depend the D. P. & L. Co. rate policy.

Officials of the D. P. & L. Co. here have declined to speculate on the rate question.

But, interest here in the situation now developing in the nation's capital has been increased by the growing number of homes and business places being converted to gas heat. Most of the conversions came as the result of the D. P. & L. Co. decision several months ago to discontinue central heat. Many homes and some places of business formerly heated by the D. P. & L.

central heating system are now on the gas lines.

Question Of Supply Too
Also underscoring interest here in the gas rate case in Washington D. C., is the question of supply.

With three pipelines now crossing the county in their winding way from southeastern gas fields to the east, a request has just been filed for laying a fourth and bigger pipe. Increasing demand was one of the reasons given to back up the request.

Progress on the gas rate hearings is disclosed daily through Associated Press reports from Washington D. C.

They said in part that counsel for the Power Commission is hammering away at contentions of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. that its wholesale rates in Ohio are too low.

The company seeks Power Commission permission to raise its wholesale rates in that state $890,581 a year by adding 2.9 cents per cubic foot to its charge.

Two Main Points

Howell Purdue, Commission Staff counsel, told newsmen at recess of a hearing on the rate boost proposal that he is attempting to establish these two points:

1. That the company's claims of shrunken earnings are based upon revenues last winter when the weather was extraordinarily mild, and therefore the figures do not fairly describe earnings prospects.
2. That the company's market for gas is growing, and that new sales revenues should expand earnings in any normal winter. Purdue quizzed W. T. Shinholtzer, chief engineer of the company, extensively on both of those points.

Shinholtzer testified that an investment of nearly $1,500,000 in plants capable of producing processed gas were not needed on any day last winter because of the mild weather.

He said they "would have been used" if the weather had been normal in those months.

The chief engineer, questioned by Purdue, said there has been a "continued and rapid growth in the market for gas" in Ohio over a period of years, and that he expects this demand will grow.

Raise Request Cut

The company in a surprise move, had slashed its demands for a boost in its wholesale gas rates.

The move came at a Federal Power Commission rate hearing Tuesday on the company's original request for permission to increase the rates.

The firm had asked on Oct. 5 an increase of $1,022,813 a year in its bills to 24 gas companies in Ohio supplied by its pipelines. Yesterday, Ohio Fuel Gas submitted a new plan which cut its demands to $890,581.

It has not yet been made clear at the hearing whether any of the proposed increase in wholesale prices would be passed on to the customers of the 24 smaller companies.

Following are the increases proposed for each company and, in brackets the raises originally proposed:

Albany Gas Co. $406 (instead of $602); Arlington Natural Gas Co. $2,672 ($3,443); Bellefontaine City Gas Utility $5,346 ($7,107); Cincinnati Gas and Electric Co.

$197,548 ($263,199); Clintonian Fuel and Oil Co., $1,856 ($2,711); Consumers Natural Gas Co., $667 ($939); Dayton Power and Light Co., $499,177 ($682,712); Debertown Oil and Gas Co., $121 ($181); Delaware Gas Co. $9,317 ($12,683); Lake Gas Co., $5,582 ($7,469); Lakeside Gas Co., $142 ($197); Lancaster City Utility, $24,012 ($34,073); Ohio Gas Co. $2,073 ($2,704); Roy Profit $397 ($600); River Gas Co., $2,235 ($2,855); Swickard Gas Co. $962 ($1,044); Tarlton Village Utility $236 ($354); Valley City Gas Service $345 ($475); Vanue Gas Co. $297 ($414); Vernone Village Utility $571 ($789); Waterville Gas and Oil Co. $1,107 ($1,497); West Ohio Gas Co. $90,625 ($122,916); Western Ohio Public Service Co. $44,341 ($58,849); and William-sport Village Utility $539 ($749).

Austria's principal rivers are the Danube, Inn, Enns, Drau, Ill and the Mur.

Series of Religious Lectures Planned for St. Colman Church For Both Youth and Adults

A new course of religious instruction has been arranged for the high school students of the St. Colman's Catholic Church parish by Father Otto Guenther, pastor of the church.

The course consists of a series of 29 lectures, one each week at 7:30 P.M. every Wednesday.

Highlighting the series are the lectures on the Ten Commandments, which Father Guenther said had been woven into the course.

The subjects to be discussed are: Conscience; The Commandments in General; Sin; Prayer in General; Daily Prayers—Unanswered Prayers; Saints and Sanctity

Superstition - I; Superstition - II; Religious Tolerance; The Name of God;

Proper Assistance at Mass; The Lord's Day; Duties to Parents; Duties Toward Country and Home; Sacredness of Human Life; Scandal; Control of Temper; Forgiveness of Injuries; Holy Virtue of Purity; Purity of Thought and Speech;

Modesty in Action—Good Reading; Safeguards for Chastity; Personal Honesty—I; Personal Honesty—II; Personal Honesty—III; Sin; Charity in Thought and Speech and God's Law of Contentment. The students are to take notes on the lectures, Father Guenther said, and added that part of the following period would be devoted to an open discussion of the previous week's subject.

Course Objective

The objective of the course, the pastor said, is "to establish in the minds and hearts of the students high moral principles to enable them to meet successfully the problems and temptations of everyday living and to counteract the worldly and Godless influences with which they come in contact."

Father Guenther, who formerly taught religion at St. Charles Seminary in Columbus, said he would announce to his congregation next Sunday that substantially the same series of lectures would be made available to adult members of St. Colman's parish. He added that any others who wish to attend would be welcome. The lecture meetings are to be held in the house at 223 East Street, which recently was purchased by the church for the future establishment of the first Catholic convent in Washington C. H. The house is adjacent to the St. Colman Church property.

Willing Workers Meet

Mr. and Mrs. J. Richard Gaskins welcomed members of the Willing Workers Sunday School Class to their home Tuesday evening.

Gaskins, president, opened the meeting by reading the 26th Psalm, after which Rev. Chester B. McKean offered prayer. Plans were made for a Christmas party and pot-luck supper to be held at the home of Rev. and Mrs. McKean, December 6, and exchange of gifts. Mrs. McKean, program leader, conducted contests for the social period, which were won by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Neff and Rev. McKean. The hostess assisted by Mrs. Arthur Evans served a delicious salad course.

Accident Loss Shows Decrease So Far in 1949

Warning Issued On Increased Dangers Next Two Months

While Fayette County's accident losses for the first eight months of this year reached thousands of dollars, the total losses in Ohio amounted to $140,949,000, according to J. C. Hiestand, president of the Ohio State Safety Council.

However, the above huge figures are almost $12,000,000 below accident losses in the state for the same period last year.

"But," Hiestand remarked, "that is not the best part of our accident record. In 1949 we have killed 239 fewer people than in 1948." All types of accidents are down compared to last year. Seven traffic deaths have occurred in Fayette County this year.

Although home fatalities are still the most numerous, 150 lives, over one-half the total savings, have been saved in the homes. Public deaths are 77 fewer; occupational fatalities are down 33; while traffic deaths have dropped but 25.

Each of the four major types of deaths is below the figures of the previous year. Falls show the greatest reduction, 17.3 per cent; deaths from fire dropped 10.8 per cent; pedestrian traffic fatalities are down 4.4 per cent; and deaths from motor vehicle collisions are 1.1 per cent below 1948. Drownings this year are 1.5 per cent higher, being the only major type that has not improved.

The improvement has been steady over the past six months and this year promises to be the first in peace time to show any gain. At the moment Ohio's improvement is better than the national rate of six per cent.

Hiestand cautioned against too much optimism. "November and December are usually bad months for accidents. In those months last year almost 1,000 persons suffered a fatal injury. If we can keep such fatalities under control this year, we'll finish the year in pretty fair shape."

Falls, pedestrian accidents in traffic, collisions of motor vehicles and fire will cause most of the deaths in the next two months. Non-collision traffic deaths will be in fifth place—but far below the other four.

Most of these may be avoided by following a simple rule: "Go

Six General Statements Are Discussed

Members of Concord Farm Bureau Council No. 1 met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Marting for a covered dish supper, with 16 members and eight children present.

The November Council Guide was used for discussion, with Frank Sollars as discussion leader. Six general statements were voted on and results recorded as to whether the group "agreed" or "disagreed". The vote was not unanimous on all questions, but the results of the majority were recorded.

The council members "agreed" on the following statements: Middlemen get too large a share of the consumer's dollar. (They are reported to receive about 52 per cent of each dollar city people per. with 16 members and eight children present.) Farmers must increase the size of their cooperatives because all other businesses are becoming bigger. Other groups try to get all they can, farmers should do the same. Farm organization should work together more closely.

They "disagreed" on the following statements: Farm organizations in the U. S. are too strong. One big farm organization would do better than several smaller ones.

They discussed operations and policies of their cooperative associations. The share of the consumer's milk dollar was thought to be too small for the producer. Under present prices of whole milk at the farm, it was pointed out that if farmers furnished the milk free, it would cost the consumer 12 cents per quart.

Yankey Hearing Friday, Nov. 25

Cecil Yankey, 41, Greenfield man who was last week found guilty of the first degree murder of LeRoy Woodland, 71, Greenfield, will get a hearing on a motion for a new trial to be argued before Judge George W. McDowell in the Highland County Common Pleas Court, Friday, Nov. 25 at 9 A.M.

If the motion for a new trial is overruled, the death sentence will probably be passed at that time.

W. W. Hill, assistant prosecutor in the case, will be present for the hearing.

If Yankey is electrocuted, he will be the fourth Highland County man to die in the electric chair.

Thanksgiving Dinner To Cost Less Than Year Ago after Big Harvest

(By the Associated Press)
The harvest horn of plenty is overflowing with bumper supplies of good foods this Thanksgiving time. And with a few exceptions, prices are substantially lower than a year ago.

Shoppers planning for the big feast day next week will find turkeys, cranberries, celery, and chestnuts for stuffing all plentiful and cheaper. Vegetables are abundant everywhere. And markets are groaning with other foods to round out the menu following bigger-than-average crops of apples, grapes, pears, raisins, almonds, walnuts, filberts and pecans.

This year there are even fresh strawberries and raspberries from California available later in the season than usual in many stores across the nation. Honeydew and casaba melons, too.

More Turkeys This Year

The turkey crop is 29 per cent bigger this year than last, when retail prices reached an all-time high. Those high prices, combined with much lower costs for feed earlier this year, led farmers to boost their gobble production considerably for the current season. The total is expected to reach 41,000,000 birds — second biggest turkey crop on record.

A survey of several major cities shows retail prices for turkeys in the family sized weights — around 15 pounds — selling this week at an average range of 59 to 63 cents a pound. That's about 15 cents a pound cheaper than last year. Bigger turkey's average around 54 cents.

Local marketing conditions and costs, and the manner in which the holiday birds are dressed for selling, may cause variations of several cents a pound from the overall average, of course.

Cranberries, about one-fifth more plentiful than in an average year, were retailing at 19 to 23 cents a pound this week, or about six cents below last year.

Meat Coolers Emptied

Meat dealers were clearing their coolers this week for the big pre-holiday flood of turkeys. And with trading in red meats slowing down prices were beginning to ease slightly also. However, retail price changes were narrow and irregular in most places compared with last week. Top grade eggs were up two cents a dozen in many places.

Poultry other than turkeys held about unchanged.

Coffee prices at the wholesale level took another spurt early in the week as roasters continued efforts to bring their selling prices into line with recent boosts in coffee bean quotations. The advances ranged from three to seven cents a pound — and one nationally advertised brand was hiked 13 cents in one move. Retail changes lagged well behind these wholesale increases as many stores were still selling coffee they bought at lower prices.

In New York, markets commissioner Anthony Masciarelli issued a statement saying an investigation by his department showed there is an adequate supply of coffee on hand. He urged the city's housewives not to buy more coffee than their normal requirements.

Coffee Probe Asked

The retail food merchants association, which says it represents 500 food merchants in New York, announced it had written President Truman asking a federal investigation of high coffee prices. Herman B. Glasser, association counsel, quoted the letter as saying the retailers have reason to believe coffee prices are "unduly inflated and manipulated."

Slightly lower prices for nearly half the foods in the Dun and Bradstreet wholesale food price index pushed the index down to $5.68 this week from $5.74 a week ago.

A year ago the index, representing the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 general use foods, was at $6.37.

Higher in wholesale price this week were corn, jellies, cocoa, rice, raisins and steers.

Lower were eggs, flour, wheat, rye, oats, ham, lard, butter, sugar, cottonseed oil, beans, peanuts, potatoes, hogs and lambs.

Jeffersonville Corn Show Set

Lions Club Sponsor Of Unique Event

A good old fashioned corn show—with a corn shelling contest to be one of the features—will be staged by the Jeffersonville Lions at the Opekasit Center.

The show will get underway next Saturday. Proceeds from the show will go into the Lions community betterment fund.

Deadline for single ear entries in the corn shelling contest is 1 P. M. Saturday. Liberal prizes will be awarded to the winners. A dance, to feature both barn dance music and modern tunes will be part of the show and will begin at 8 P. M.

Lion Dr. Robert Little is the chairman in charge of the show. He is assisted by Gilbert Coll, Kenneth Walters and Neal Conner, who has charge of arrangements for the dance.

Willard Kirk is to serve as judge of the corn shelling contest. Refreshments will be sold to those who attend the show.

Opekasit Center is located about two miles north of Jeffersonville on Route 70.

Will Picture Ohio Disposal Plants

Although Washington C. H., when the present sewage disposal plant addition is completed, will have one of the best plants in Ohio, it will not be included among a few to be featured by the U. S. Department of Health.

Ohio has been selected as the locale of a series of films illustrating modern municipal sewage treatment practice, according to the Ohio Department of Health. The films will be made by the Communicable Disease Center, U. S. Public Health Service.

Five men from the center, located at Atlanta, Ga., are assigned to the project and will photograph treatment plants at Norwalk, Fremont, Wooster, Findlay and Cleveland. The plants were selected from the standpoint of picturing several different types of municipal sewage treatment processes and where such works appeared best for picture purposes.

The U. S. Public Health Service is preparing training aids in all phases of public health. The film will have national distribution, principally to state health departments, engineering and medical schools, and to others interested in public health work.

Taxpayers Phoned When Delinquent

DAYTON, Nov. 17—(AP)—Amazing how many property owners suffer from "oversights" when it comes to paying taxes. County Treasurer Chester Myers says.

But he's found a way of reminding them of it—by using the telephone.

Myers and his staff were faced with a list of 600 delinquent taxpayers after the Nov. 1 deadline. So they took to the telephone en masse.

Some 95 per cent apologized for the, er uh "oversight" and paid up.

ONE-MAN POWER SAW for the FARM

CORDBOOD • POSTS • TREE MAINTENANCE • PULP and SAWMILL TIMBER • CONSTRUCTION

Here's the saw that's designed to lessen work and raise income on the farm. You can take it anywhere—up hill and across swampy land if necessary—because it weighs less than 25 pounds. And cut anything—heavy timber, limbs, hardwood, softwood, frozen wood—because it has a full 3 horsepower.

Many other features too make the McCulloch 3-25 tops on any farm: automatic clutch, built-in chain oiler, recoil starter, and full-power operation at any angle.

Customers' Corner

Why will food prices go up if the anti-trust lawyers win their suit to put A & P out of business?

Here is just one of a number of reasons:

We manufacture many of the quality foods we sell in our stores, such as Bokar, Red Circle and Eight O'Clock coffees, Ann Page foods, White House milk, and many others.

Because this saves us money we are able to pass along these savings to our customers in the form of lower prices.

The anti-trust lawyers have asked the court to order us to get rid of our manufacturing facilities, which would put an end to all these savings.

Make no mistake about it. If the anti-trust lawyers succeed in putting A & P out of business you will find your food bill is higher.

SCO League Intact Again After Control Board Meets

The old South Central Ohio League is intact once more. It survived a threatened break-up last spring when Washington C. H. and Hillsboro severed sports relations after a flare-up of emotions and tempers. Washington C. H. school authorities opened the breach by serving notice to Hillsboro officials of the decision to break.

Although details of the ruckus never were cleared up entirely, WHS action followed last year's rough and tumble football and basketball games. WHS officials merely said in their letter to HHS that relations at Hillsboro were unsatisfactory.

So, Washington C. H. and Hillsboro will play South Central Ohio League games during the 1950-51 school year.

This notice of resumption of scheduling between the two schools became official at the fall meeting of the SCO's Board of Control, Wednesday night, in Greenfield.

It was revealed that at present, the contract for football games between the two schools next year is now in the hands of Hillsboro for signing.

Actually, the one year "cooling-off period" agreed upon by the schools, just before the spring meeting of the SCO board this year, will be over in time for spring sports. Inasmuch as Hillsboro does not plan to present to

Competition Eases In Lions' Bowling

Three teams made clean sweeps of their matches in the Lions League bowling at Bowland Wednesday night.

But, it was the Bloomburg Claws who came through with a 2598 total (441 handicap) against the Jamestown Cubs for the evening's high score.

Wright's 549 paced the WCH Claws to a three-game victory over the WCH Tail Twisters and Thrailkill's 540 put the winning spark in the Cubs for their clean sweep against the Bloomburg Tail Twisters.

In the only split decision, the Jamestown Tail Twisters took the first two games from the WCH Tamers before dropping the last one.

Horse from Here Wins in California

The spotlight of harness horse racing was turned on Fayette County again last Saturday at Hollywood Park, Englewood, Calif., when Tilden Richard's game little filly, Miss Navy Blue, came through with a win by pacing the mile in 2:05.3.

The three-year-old daughter of Bert Abbe was driven by Eddie Cobb to make the Washington C. H. triumph complete.

Both Richard and Cobb live here and Miss Navy Blue, a product of Fayette County, was trained by her owner at the Fairground.

The 2.12 earned run average for 1949 of veteran hurler Al Benton was tops for Cleveland Indian pitchers.

Two Lions Make All-Star Team Dominated by Circleville

Two Washington C. H. Lions representatives on the first team. John Thompson and Jim Aleshire pulled down guard and half back positions on the second.

The selection this year returned to the first and second team form instead of the offensive and defensive squads that were picked last year.

In selecting the backfield this year, the coaches had to whittle down a sizeable list of names, at the same time finding competition on the line not so keen.

Two Games Lost By WCH Bowlers

Although C. Cash turned in a three-game total of 609 the Washington C. H. team lost two out of three duck pin bowling games to Fred's Auto team in Greenfield.

The WCH team won the last game with a 919-pin total.

What's YOUR price tag on happiness?

The smartest bit of automobile styling on the road today? The stand-out beauty of tapering fenders—the sturdy protection of a wholly new front-end design?

The prestige that's in the Buick name—the solid, road-wise steadiness Buick has always stood for?

Your chance to get in on the perfect smoothness of Dynaflo Drive*—this being the lowest-priced car on which that sensational new transmission is available?

*Optional at extra cost.

Last Game of Season For Lions Friday Night

The Lions of WHS today were preparing to make their last appearance of the football season here Friday night at Gardner Park.

The game then will bring to a close a season in which only two games have been won—from Greenfield and Portsmouth East.

But the season and the squad could not be called flops.

Although the Lions were handed defeats in bigger doses than in many years, the most of the boys were young and inexperienced.

Coach Fred Pierson is disappointed, and makes no bones about it, but he has said just as frankly that "they did the best they could ... you couldn't ask more."

Two Lions Make All-Star Team Dominated by Circleville

Two Washington C. H. Lions representatives on the first team. John Thompson and Jim Aleshire pulled down guard and half back positions on the second.

The selection this year returned to the first and second team form instead of the offensive and defensive squads that were picked last year.

In selecting the backfield this year, the coaches had to whittle down a sizeable list of names, at the same time finding competition on the line not so keen.

1949 All-SCO Teams

FIRST TEAM
J. Starke (Cir.)
Nondas Brooks (Wil.)
Lowell Thomas (Cir.)
Bill Horney (Wash.)

SECOND TEAM
LE Bill Bourne (Hill.)
LT Roy Barr (Green)
LG John Thompson (Wash.)
C Bill Stout (Cir.)

Tie
Norman Baxala, (Green)
Herman Cartwright, (Wil.)
Abe Rihl (Cir.)
Barry Smith (Wash.)
Bob McAlister (Cir.)
Charles Lewis (Wil.)
Harold Hill (Cir.)
John Valentine (Cir.)

Norman Baxala, (Green)

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening.

The comfort that's found in all-coil springs, a husky, steady-traveling understructure, cushions that are deep and soft and wide enough to let you spread yourself a bit.

Even that extra swelling of the chest that comes from owning a car you know everyone respects and admires.

In a word—your happiness. It's never out of our mind in planning this car—nor in making very sure each dollar of cost gives you the greatest possible benefit.

That's why we rather proudly ask you to go see—and try—this Buick SPECIAL. It's priced like a six, in spite of the fact that like all Buicks, it's a big-powered Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight.

And we honestly believe that it puts a lower price tag on your motoring happiness than any other car you can buy today! See your Buick dealer and find out about that.

They're all there, every one of those things. And for a good reason that may go a bit beyond the usual idea in designing an automobile.

For, a long while ago, we graduated from the idea that a motorcar is merely a means of getting about.

The way you travel is pretty important too. The lift that's yours in knowing there's no prettier picture anywhere on the highways. The "kick" there is in a power plant that's lively and eager and always ready to get in on the fun.

Oregon Linebacker 'Lineman of Week'

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 17.—(P)—Curley-haired Stan McQuire said, "I'm overwhelmed."

Told that he had been named lineman of the week in the Associated Press poll today for his sparkling work Saturday in Oregon State's 25-20 upset football win over Michigan State, the 22-year-old right end said, "I just did what the coaches taught me."

What they taught him, apparently, was how to kick field goals

(one), how to convert (two), how to block kicks (one for a safety), how to snag passes (one paved the way to a touchdown) and assorted other information to the discomfiture of Michigan State.

A full-time five foot 11 inch, 192-pound player who backs up the line on defense, McQuire was the spark in OSC's surprising win. But head Coach Kip Taylor said he wasn't particularly surprised.

The Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket Club held its first net tourney in 1884.

Attention Farmers

What is your opinion of having stay wires, sometimes called upright wires, of a Farm Fence closer than the usual 12 inches apart and still not sacrifice but little strength and weight of the line wires; still have a good heavy fence? A fence with stay wires 9 inches apart instead of 12 inches apart and make the line wire No. 10 gauge instead of No. 9 gauge. Also the upright wires 10 gauge would make the total weight of the fence the same approximately as all No. 9 throughout. This distributes the strength and makes for a closer weave. We can supply this fence in limited quantity now. Price $1.00 per rod less 10% discount, introductory price.

Traffic Deaths Down, Dealers Here Are Told

Ray Brandenburg
Reports On NADA
Safety Records

Some 25 members of the Fayette and Clinton Automobile Dealers Association heard a report on the work of the National Automobile Dealers Association at a meeting held Wednesday night in the Banquet Room of the Hotel Washington.

The report was given by Ray Brandenburg, NADA director from this territory. Brandenburg emphasized what the NADA had been doing to cut down on traffic fatalities.

He said records for 1947 showed 5,000 deaths from traffic accidents. This figure was cut to 4,000 in 1948, he explained.

Brandenburg said the next NADA convention will be held in Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 5 and 6.

Ohio Leads Dealers

The speaker said the Ohio Auto Dealers Association has more memberships than any other state association in the union. He said Ohio ranked second on the NADA membership list, with New York in first place.

L. C. Scott, president of the Fayette-Clinton Dealers Association, presided over the meeting. The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Carroll Halliday, chairman, Fred Rost and Ernest Brookover.

Wayne Bower and Robert Bailey, both of Washington C. H., were appointed to the attendance committee for Fayette County.

The next meeting of the group was set for the third Wednesday in January in Wilmington. The committee named to make arrangements for the meeting consists of R. R. Roberts, Carl Chenoweth and E. L. Donaldson.

Besides Scott, other officers of the association include Robert Curry, of Blanchester, vice president, and Everett Heston of Wilmington; secretary-treasurer.

Jeff. PTA Speaker Scores Health Plan

It will cost approximately $180 per person for federal compulsory health benefits if they are legislated, according to Robert Freeman, executive secretary of the Montgomery Medical Society.

Speaking before the Jeffersonville Parent-Teacher's Club Wednesday night, Freeman discussed the cost and consequences of compulsory health benefits.

At the beginning, he said, the tax rate would be three percent on incomes up to $4800 and that it would increase after the plan was put into effect.

According to Freeman, millions of dollars of tax money are being spent to sell the idea of compulsory health benefits to the American public.

Before discussing compulsory health benefits, Freeman showed a short film on the accomplishments of modern medicines and discussed the "miracle drugs" briefly.

Moose Lodges Hold District Meeting

Discussion of the dedication campaign was the highlight of the district No. 8 meeting of the Moose Lodge Wednesday night in Sabina.

Meeting at the Sabina Lodge were representatives from Washington C. H., Sabina, Circleville, Lancaster, London, Columbus and Worthington.

The dedication campaign is a nationwide drive for new members to finance the inter-faith "House of God" Church in Mooseheart, Ill. Funds from new membership fees during the campaign which began September 1 and will continue until August 20, 1950, are helping to finance the building of the church.

For their guest speaker of the evening, the Moose Lodge brought in Al Jiles, state president of the Columbus Moose Association.

The next district meeting was scheduled for December 14 at the Washington C. H. Lodge.

The local unit will also hold a class initiation Sunday, Dec. 11.

Kids to Entertain At PTA Meeting

Children from the Milledgeville school will entertain members of the Jasper PTA Friday night.

The entertainment will come during the regular meeting of the PTA which will start at 8 P. M. in the school.

In addition to numbers by the Milledgeville School Choir, the parents and teachers will be treated to tap dancing, guitar and piano selections.

A candy sale is also in the offing for the meeting.

Greenfield VFW Post Buys The "Log Cabin"

Smith Wilson Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Greenfield, has purchased the "Log Cabin" located on Route 28 immediately east of Greenfield.

The property was purchased from the estate of Mrs. Wynona L. Alley, through her father, Walter S. Lewis, of Washington C. H.

The post will sell the furniture, including several antique pieces at auction.

Post officials said they expect to build an addition to the cabin as a meeting hall and for social affairs.

Dr. S. A. Marshall Was 92 Thursday

Dr. S. A. Marshall, 92, who for many years was active in his profession in Jeffersonville but retired some 30 years ago, very quietly celebrated his 92nd birthday, Thursday, at his home in Jeffersonville.

Dr. Marshall after retiring, resided on his farm near Hagler's Station for a number of years. For the past year he has resided with his sister, Mrs. L. O. Fultz, in Jeffersonville.

Dr. Marshall's father, Dr. O. W. Marshall, was also engaged in the practice of medicine in Jeffersonville and community for many years.

Y-Teen Club Plans Thanksgiving Baskets

Committees to arrange for the preparation of Thanksgiving baskets were set up at the Wednesday afternoon meeting of the WHS Y-Teen Club.

Meeting after school, the students also chose committees for the Y-Teen dance.

Leading the program at this third meeting of the club at the school were: Sally Lewis, who brought the meeting to order; Dinah Davis, who led the devotional period and Roseann Helfrich, who read the Scripture.

Room Mothers Fete East Side Teachers

Teachers at the Eastside School were given a party by the room mothers, Wednesday night.

The annual affair at the school included a short entertainment program which featured readings by Mrs. Paul Schorr and Mrs. Jane Coffman and a vocal selection by Mrs. Norris Crissinger.

The remainder of the evening was spent in playing Buncos.

Prizes went to Mrs. Max Shepherd, Mrs. Ted Cline, Mrs. Paul Schorr and Mrs. James Johnson.

Refreshments were served at small tables, centered with red carnations, which were presented to the mothers and teachers.

Small favors were also given to the teachers.

T. C. Gooley Estate Valued At $66,250

Under the terms of the will of Thomas C. Gooley, late of New Holland, his estate, valued at $66,250 was left to his widow, Mrs. Ida M. Gooley. The will was probated in Pickaway County.

Mrs. Gooley was named executrix of the estate, together with a daughter, Garnet Gooley of Cincinnati. Cecil Briggs, Percy May and Joseph G. Owens were named appraisers of the estate.

Snowfall Occurs Wednesday Night

The first real snow of the season occurred late Wednesday night, but nearly all of it melted soon after striking the ground.

The snowflurries followed light rainfall which started about 7:30 P. M.

Snow flurries also occurred Thursday morning and were widespread over this area.

Car Without License Is Seized by Police

A Mercury automobile, which bore no license plates or other means of ready identification, was found by police, parked on the west side of the Wilson Hardware Store Wednesday night and pulled to a garage to await identification.

NO MEN ALLOWED

Massachusetts has an anti-sissy law. It bans men going to ladies' beauty shops for permanent waves. Guess kids in Massachusetts were never told that eating the crusts of the bread would make their hair curl.
